MOULTON TAKES OVER LOCAL SERVICE STATION

Ruel Moulton, who managed Ruel's Texaco station at 235th st. and Western for five years, took over as owner-manager of Paramount Center Super Service station on Torrance blvd. near Madrona (next to the new civic center). The station will be known as Ruel's Paramount Center Super Service Station from now on.

Moulton, who purchased the station from Paramount Builders, has been in business in Torrance since 1946.

"With my understanding of the community and a thorough study of petroleum products, I believe that Seaside gasoline and products unquestionably represent the topmost quality among products in this community," Moulton stated.

The station offers everything from gas to automotive repairs, he said.

Moulton and his wife, Eileen, live at 2224 Torrance blvd., together with their children Marlene, 19 and Steve, 10.

Volunteers Needed for Heart Sunday

The Los Angeles County Heart association has designated Sunday, February 26, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. as Heart Sunday. During this three hour period, a local block worker will call upon every home in Torrance to contribute to the necessary work of the Heart association.

To make this a completely personal community project, one worker will be required for each square block. This means that over 600 workers will be needed. Any persons wishing to help this cause may volunteer by calling Malcolm Richland at FAirfax 8-0540, Ext. 17 during the day or at FRontier 5-6239 in the evenings.

The minimum goal for Heart Sunday for Los Angeles County is $250,000. Of the monies collected 66 2/3% is used locally. Heart and blood vessel diseases account for over fifty percent of all deaths.

Symphony to Hold Teen Age Try-outs

A chance to join the nationally-known California All-Youth Symphony Orchestra will be given every teen-age musician of this area, according to an announcement just made by the orchestra's founder-conductor Ernst H. Katz.

Starting today, February 16, and continuing for ten days through Saturday, February 25, the annual county-wide auditions for membership in the symphony will be held for all Torrance area young musicians.

Conductor Katz invites boys and girls, between the ages of 12 and 19, playing violins, violas, cellos, basses, trumpets, trombones, French horns, flutes, oboes, clarinets, bassoons, alto saxes, drums and tympani to immediately call Webster 8-0048 and an audition will be arranged.

There is no audition fee or membership charge for joining the California All-Youth Symphony which is a non-commercial civic youth project founded 19 years ago for the purpose of "Giving Youth A Chance To Be Heard."

Some sections of the orchestra will be doubled and all instrumentalists trying-out for the group will be given every consideration. Young people who play either the string-bass or kettle-drums may use the orchestra's instruments.
